

Managing Multicultural Teams

Unravel the complexities of managing a multicultural team

Three e-learning modules for blended or self-directed learning

How can the MMT help managers working in a multi-cultural context?

It helps them learn how to manage cultural diversity and distance in international project teams by exploring the following themes:

- Recognizing cultural differences
- Managing cultural differences
- Sustaining energy at a distance

“The modules are very comprehensive and really address our move to be a more globally aware and cross-culturally agile business.”

HR Leadership Development, multinational manufacturing company

Learn the do's and don'ts of managing a multicultural team

This e-learning course will enable you to develop the skills and understanding needed to lead and work effectively in multicultural teams. The course contains three modules of approximately 40 minutes each covering the following topics:

Module 1 – Recognizing Cultural Differences

Module 2 – Managing Cultural Differences

Module 3 – Sustaining Energy at a Distance.

Licensing

Available on a pay-per-use basis or through an annual licence.

Free trials available for trainers.

The course is SCORM compliant and can be installed on your organisation's Learning Management System (LMS).

Key features

- Theoretical concepts about cultural diversity are brought to life through an engaging story about a multicultural project team
- Practical case studies to explore and learn about cultural dynamics
- An experienced cross-cultural trainer acts as a virtual guide to maintain interest and motivation
- Available for use as a self-study course or as an element for inclusion in a blended learning programme
- Includes reviews and quizzes to reinforce and embed learning
- Clear links to WorldWork's other tools including the International Preferences Indicator